

OVERVIEW

Professor Michael Kyrios is a clinical psychologist and Director of the Research School of Psychology at the Australian National University. Throughout his career, he has undertaken a range of academic, practice, professional & administrative roles, and has previously held major academic posts at the University of Melbourne and Swinburne University of Technology where he was Director of the Brain & Psychological Sciences Research Centre and the National e-Therapy Centre. Professor Kyrios is the current President of the Australian Psychological Society (APS), having been elected a Fellow in 2007.

Professor Kyrios' research focuses on obsessive-compulsive spectrum disorders (OCD, hoarding disorder, body dysmorphic disorder, trichotillomania), behavioural addictions (compulsive buying, problem gambling), depression, anxiety disorders, chronic medical illness, the self in psychological disorders, and the development, evaluation and dissemination of evidence-based psychological treatments, including e-therapies. Professor Kyrios has received over $16 million in grant funding from the National Health & Medical Research Council, Australian Research Council, beyondblue Centre of Excellence in Depression and Related Disorders, as well as other sources. He has well over 120 publications, and has taken on editorial responsibilities for numerous journals including Behavior Therapy, Behavioural & Cognitive Psychotherapy, Journal of Obsessive-Compulsive & Related Disorders, and International Journal of Psychology. Professor Kyrios was Chair of the Scientific Committee for the 2010 International Congress of Applied Psychology and will also chair the scientific program of the 2016 World Congress of Behavioural and Cognitive Therapies. He has been an invited keynote and workshop presenter nationally and internationally, and contributed his expertise to consumer and community groups, as well as government and regulatory bodies. Professor Kyrios received the 2013 Ian M Campbell Memorial Prize in Clinical Psychology and the 2011 Citation for Excellence from the Society for General Psychology and the American Psychological Association.
